PACKS

FortBox have put together four different packs of boxes and packing essentials to make your decision making easier AND save you money. When you buy a pack you are paying at least 10% less than if you bought all the materials separately.

Each pack is designed to suit the typical requirements of the type of move described in their names. This is based on years of experience in the professional removals and storage industry. However you can, of course, top them up from our huge selection in store.
